Large Summer Acreage Due Planting On Farms

Not only are Randall County farmers expected to reap a record wheat harvest this summer, but they are also expected to plant a near-record acreage of summer crops.

Farmers began early this week plowing their fields, some even into the night, to catch up on lost time due to the heavy moisture content of the soil.

Heavy rains and snows through the spring have prohibited normal soil preparation operations for most farmers and at early week the ground was just beginning to dry enough to allow tractors in the fields.

"It looks like we're going to have the largest number of planted acres of summer crops in Randall County in at least the last 25 years," County Agent John Brazzil said. "There'll be very few idle acres in the county."

The county agent said a good number of acres of land have already been planted with winter wheat and up to 150,000 acres more will be planted in a summer crop like grain sorghum, largest money crop in the county, or soybeans or cotton.

Right now, the farmers are running against time.

"They're way behind," Brazzil said. "Normally, they would have had one-half to two-thirds of the land prepared at this time."

Nevertheless, Brazzil said the time element is not yet that critical.

"They have substantial machinery and the moisture is excellent," he said.

The moisture situation in the county has meant that there has been little or no irrigation of winter wheat this spring.

"That's a big factor because it means we're not expending our resources," he said.

Action by the federal government last winter in opening farm lands to cultivation have spurred the increased acreage to be planted this summer.

Brazzil said the outlook for the wheat crop is still good.

"It looks like prospects are as good as they were in 1947 and 1949, and old timers are still talking about those years," he said. "Prices have been favorable and the total wheat outlook for the U.S. is excellent."

Meat Week Gains Local Support

County officials signed the same resolution twice this week proclaiming next week as Meat Appreciation Week in Randall County.

The resolutions were presented in reaction to the recent nationwide meat boycott.

The board of directors of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce have also gone on record in support of Meat Appreciation Week.

During their Monday session, county commissioners approved a resolution presented by R. B. Gist representing the Randall County Farm Bureau.

Wednesday morning, County Judge Woody Pond signed the same resolution for the three Amarillo promoters of Meat Appreciation Week and Meat Appreciation Day.

Gist said the directors of the Farm Bureau voted to present the resolution in reaction to the boycott of meat by housewives and the statements by Labor Leader George Meany on price controls.

After approving Gist's resolution, Commissioner John Fulgenzi suggested the Farm Bureau submit the resolution to President Nixon and to Meany.

Tom Folmar, Jay Riley and Tom Pepper sought Judge Pond's signature on the resolution Wednesday.

The resolution reads:

"Whereas the production of meat is an important part of the economy of Randall County . . . and whereas the county judge of Randall County desires to recognize the value of meat to Randall County and its citizens, therefore be it resolved . . . that the week of April 21 through April 28, 1973, is hereby proclaimed to be Meat Appreciation Week in Randall County and further all citizens are asked to remember that an abundance of high-quality meat products requires the efforts of many individuals to produce, process and distribute, and that this abundance is unique to the United States of America . . ."

Gist said the Farm Bureau is also contemplating the purchase of an ad in The Canyon News to urge citizen support for meat appreciation week.

In other developments surrounding the meat crisis, the Happy Cowbelles, a beef-oriented woman's group, has urged citizens to write letters to congressmen protesting a proposed bill to roll back prices to winter levels.

Local Churches Schedule Special Easter Services

In addition to the Sunrise Easter Service to be held Sunday in Palo Duro Canyon's Amphitheater, several Canyon churches have also scheduled special Easter activities.

First Presbyterian Church will hold its Annual Maundy Thursday Communion Service tonight in the sanctuary. The time is 7:30 p.m.

On Friday, First Presbyterian will observe Good Friday with the traditional service and Draping of the Cross, also at 7:30 p.m. in the sanctuary. Their regular church service will be held at 10 a.m. Easter Sunday.

On Monday, the church will hold a Pentacostal Service.

Canyon's First Christian Church will hold communion service at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. Immediately following the communion service, the church's 24-hour Prayer Vigil will begin.

Regular services will be held Sunday at First Christian Church.

The First United Methodist Church will hold its Maundy Thursday Communion in the sanctuary tonight. The time is 7:30 p.m.

On Friday, the sanctuary will be open from noon until 3 p.m. for those who would like to go for prayer and meditation during Good Friday observance.

The regular morning service of First Methodist Church will be at 10:45 a.m. Easter Sunday.

First Baptist church, while taking part in the Sunrise Service at the park, has no special Easter services planned. Regular worship hour on Sunday is 11 a.m.

St. Ann's Catholic Church has an observance each day, beginning with the Mass of the Lord's Supper to be held at the church tonight. The time is 8 p.m.

On Friday at 8 p.m., also at the church, St. Ann's will observe the Liturgy of The Lord's Passion and Death and at 8 p.m. Saturday the Easter Vigil of the Resurrection.

At 10 a.m. Sunday, the church will observe Easter Day Mass.

St. Ann's began Easter observance Wednesday night with the Passover Meal held at the Canyon Community Center.

The Church of Christ-Canyon Hills, will hold its regular worship hour at 10:30 a.m. Sunday, with the only other observance to be an afternoon Easter Egg Hunt.

Calvary Baptist Church plans no special services but will hold regular worship at 10:45 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Other churches either plan no special services or were

Lake, Park Officials Brace For Easter Surge

Officials at both Palo Duro Canyon State Park and Buffalo Lake are bracing for an expected onslaught of people during the Easter weekend.

At Buffalo Lake, open for the first time in five years for fishing, officials estimate that they will entertain some 7,000 people during the two-day period.

And at Palo Duro State Park, at least 2,000 cars are expected to enter on Sunday alone. This number will include visitors to the Sunrise Easter Service scheduled for 6:15 a.m., officials said.

According to reports, the park's number of visitors had been "about normal" during the first half of April but during recent days attendance has jumped considerably.

"The good weather and school being out has made attendance real good the last few days," a spokesman said.

At the lake, where some 13,000 fishermen, campers and sightseers visited during the first two weeks of April, attendance

Bynum Paying Debt Austin Lawyer Says

Rep. Ben Bynum has made arrangements to pay an account outstanding with an Austin printing company and is making his payments on time, according to an Austin attorney.

Attorney H. Kirk Hays of the law firm of Baker, Watkins, Ledbetter, Hayden & Ramsey, said in a letter to The News that his firm represents the Whitley Company, which holds a judgment against the Amarillo legislator Bynum.

An abstract of the judgment filed in Austin was filed several months ago in Randall County. The judgment was obtained by the Whitley Company after Bynum failed to pay for more than $1000 worth of printing.

"The abstract of judgment is still on file, and will remain on file until the full amount of the judgment has been paid," Hays' letter states. "However, Representative Bynum has made arrangements through this office for monthly payments to retire the debt and has maintained the payments on schedule as agreed."

Bynum told The News several months ago he refused to pay Whitley Company for printing of a letter to his constituents because of poor workmanship and late arrival of the letters. He had said at that time, however, arrangements had been made to pay the debt.

President of the Whitley Company had told The News at that time that no such arrangement existed.

"You may have received an erroneous impression from his

Weather Warning Plan Provides Tornado Alert

Tornado season is upon us and already on one occasion city officials have deemed it advisable to put into effect a weather warning plan for Canyon conceived last year.

City Manager George Loudder said the plan, produced by Police Chief Al Stewart and Deputy Fire Chief Joe Rice, was put into action on a recent evening when Canyon was placed under a tornado watch by U.S. Weather Service observers.

With damage already caused by tornadoes in the area, local officials are preparing for implementation of the plan on short notice in the Canyon area.

Loudder said Canyon has basically two plans for handling disasters, particularly tornadoes.

One plan outlines actions of city offices following a disaster. The other outlines action to warn residents of impending danger.

The plan works like this:

Once Canyon is placed under a tornado watch by the U.S. Weather Service, all department heads in the city as well as the city manager, police chief and fire chief will be notified of the action.

Each separate department of the city can be called into action and units in each department are assigned observation locations to begin looking for dangerous clouds in order to provide an early warning.

Units with radios in their vehicles are assigned to various locations outside Canyon and on high ground.

In the meantime, a weather control center is to be established at the fire station staffed by the police chief, fire chief, city manager, water superintendent and public works superintendent.

If tornadic action is confirmed by an observer from one of their posts, the fire chief and police chief will confer and decide when to blow the sirens to warn the city residents.

After sounding the warning signal, and when the danger is over, the department heads will again confer to decide when to blow the all-clear siren.

The warning signal which indicates take cover is 8 blasts,

Area Women, Protesting Roads, Will Try To Do It Themselves

Protest ended in compromise Monday for seven north Randall County women who said they'll try to provide the caliche and the trucks to haul it if county commissioners will upgrade their road.

Ired over what they termed "terrible" roads in the north part of the county, the women, led by Mrs. Fern Patterson, said they will try to purchase enough caliche and provide enough cattle trucks to haul it to caliche four miles of a dirt road which is between Hollywood Road and 34th Street six miles west of the Canyon expressway.

Commissioners said if the women can provide the caliche to the road, county road employees will lay and spread the caliche.

"Our roads are impossible," Mrs. Patterson told commissioners. "In the winter, if we didn't have men there'd be no way to get us out or for an ambulance to get in."

Mrs. Patterson asked commissioners why Hope Road, just three miles to the east of her road, had been caliched and was told by Commissioner Bill Butler that Hope Road had been caliched several years ago before prices for rock soared.

"All we want is something to get in and out on," she said.

Questioning the commissioners about how they set priorities on which roads will be paved and which will not, Mrs. Patterson said "How do you decide which is to be fixed?"

Commissioner John Fulgenzi said the commissioners base their decisions on paving on the amount of traffic on a given road. He noted that the county has 800 miles of unpaved roads.

"We try to accommodate those areas that have high traffic counts," he said.

Mrs. Patterson also complained about maintenance of the road, which six of the seven women presently live on, and asked commissioners why road maintenance crews grade the road in a fashion which seems to force water onto the road rather than from the road.

Road Maintenance Supervisor Joe West told the women the roads had to be graded a particular way due to snow.

Fulgenzi told the women the county would pave their road if they could ensure 100 foot right-of-way along the four mile stretch and if they would pay half the cost of paving.

The road is currently 50-feet wide.

"Are you willing to split the cost with us?" he asked, noting that paving the road with caliche would cost as much as $40,000.

Mrs. Patterson proposed an alternate solution—that the women try to obtain cheaper or free caliche and haul the caliche to the site with privately-owned trucks.

In other business Monday, commissioners heard a presentation by Glenn Phillips, assistant manager of the Amarillo Federal Credit Union.

Phillips proposed that county employees be allowed to join the credit union.

Admitting his proposal might

City Firemen Finish House At Drill Field

Canyon volunteer firemen deliberately set a house afire Wednesday night.

Fortunately, units of the fire department were already on the scene for the conflagration.

The house, a cinder block, two-bedroom structure, was just completed by the volunteer firemen recently after three years of work. It's located at the Paul Lindsey Drill Field in west Canyon.

Firemen got their first crack at putting out a house fire in drill exercise Wednesday night when they saw their structure go up in flames.

Due to its construction, the house will stand through a good many more fires.

Deputy Chief Joe Rice said the house, which contains 994 square feet of floor space, was constructed during firemen's free time at a cost of $1 per square foot.

"I challenge any builder in Canyon to match it," Rice declared.

Firemen poured a concrete foundation for the house, collected cinder blocks over a three-year span, salvaged some material from the old Canyon Junior High School building, and put it altogether for their drill house.

The house contains two bedrooms, a living room, kitchen, bathroom and one-car garage.

"It has some furniture in it," Rice said, pointing out a refrigerator, washing machine, beds and chairs, all made of metal.

The ceiling of the house is sheet metal to keep fire from spreading into the wood roof area. The roof is covered with composition shingles.

Witches Deny Satan, Evil, Say Their Goal Is 'Good'

The name is the hang-up.

Just say the word "witch" and dodge the jumped-to conclusions.

It's almost with that in mind that Gavin and Yvonne Frost have undertaken a tour of American cities and college campuses. A witch, after all, will draw a crowd of the curious just about anywhere.

The Frosts say they are witches, witches not in the sense that they worship Satan and foster evil.

They're witches of a more moderate nature, who, although they perform their religious rites in the nude in the out-of-doors and maintain strong belief in ESP, faith healing and other extra-sensory powers, claim there is as much basis in fact for their school of thought as there is for Christianity.

The Frosts are flamen and flamenca of a coven which calls itself the School of Wicca and they've launched a campaign of speaking engagements to reclaim their religion from the Satanists, who they say are not really extremist witches but are rather extremist Christians.

In Amarillo Monday, the Frosts conducted a panel discussion of their "craft" with two West Texas State University professors and the editor of The Canyon News.

Dr. Gerald Craven, who teaches English at the university, Dr. Joseph Findley, pyschology teacher and a Disciples of Christ preacher, and Carroll Wilson of the News questioned the Frosts on their beliefs during the two-hour session.

Hailing from St. Charles, Mo., the Frosts operate a school of witchcraft through which students may receive the degree of Doctor of Celtic Witchcraft.

Frost, who sports a trimmed Van Dyke beard brought to a neat point below his chin, is calm during discussion, apparently knowledgeable of his subject

by Troy Martin FROM THE CANYON RIM

Wayne Bedwell who runs Happy Wheat Growers Feedlot at Happy tells me the High Plains area will increase its beef feeding capacity 50 percent within the next year to 3,000,000 head.

Not even the Borger boom brought prosperity to the area like cattle feeding and new industry is bringing to us now.

We are blessed to live here.

Iowa grain farmers, getting a good price for grain, are getting out of the feeding business and cattle feeding is shifting to the Plains area.

Wayne Bedwell is a no-nonsense cowboy who would look right at home on a Marlboro ad. He believes in the scientific approach to cow feeding but he also believes in hard work.

In fact, Wayne says America has to go back to work or die.

I think he is right. Dollars can be run off on a printing press and do not represent wealth. Goods and services — not paper dollars or even gold and silver — are the wealth of any country.

We should have learned this from the mythical Midas who found he couldn't eat gold. You can't solve a country's economic problems with play money doled out by a government that produces nothing.

Wayne points out that the per capita income in Japan, our number one trade competitor, will surpass that of the United States within the next two or three years.

While greedy management and greedy labor worked together to choke the industry of this country, the Japanese have just been working. A nation of natural born technicians, the Japanese are devoted to company and country.

Stories are coming out of Japan about workers donating two to four days of work a month to strengthen their particular companies.

Compare this to the idiocy of American housewives boycotting an industry that is giving them the cheapest food on earth and by comparison the cheapest food in the history of the world.

Instead of boycotting, the bricklayer's wife should get down on her knees and thank God that her husband has to work only 15 minutes to put a pound of top sirloin steak on her family table. It can't be done anywhere else and it has never been done before even here.

Back in April of 1937 Bellah's Grocery advertised sirloin steak at 20 cents a pound. Last week a local supermarket advertised sirloin at $1.39. This seems like a whale of a jump but actually the sirloin is cheaper now than it was in 1937.

In 1937 the going rate for day labor was 15 cents an hour and it took an hour and 15 minutes to earn a sirloin. A worker receiving the minimum wage today can work out a pound of sirloin in 52 minutes.

Agricultural products are America's last great source of wealth. We are seeing fields of manufacture we once dominated being taken over by other countries.

If America is to prosper, it is up to the farmer because only in this field are we still supreme and the health of the dollar may well depend upon beef, wheat and corn.

President Nixon knows this and he is using food to the hilt to shore up our position in the world.

If big labor succeeds under the leadership of that misguided missile from the plumbers' union, George Meany, in gutting the farming and beef industry, labor will be just as dead as agriculture.

Everything we have depends on the dirt, including the food we eat and even the bodies we walk around in. There's not a union laborer in this country whose job is not ultimately affected by agriculture, the biggest consumer of them all.

I don't think a Department of Energy and Raw Materials with cabinet rank would be amiss. We had better start developing atomic energy, solar energy or any other energy we can find. We are swiftly and sadly learning that petroleum which we once thought of as inexhaustible is definitely limited.

City Commission Awards 14-Year Pact To Pioneer

After a year of deadlocked negotiations, the City of Canyon Monday night approved a 14-year franchise agreement with Pioneer Natural Gas Co.

The action was taken by city commissioners after only one member, Dr. Willis Harrison, talked in opposition to it. Dr. Harrison said he believed the term of the agreement should be only ten years, citing the possible loss of "bargaining power" regarding rate increases.

"A shorter time might prevent them from coming back for rate increases," the councilman said.

City Manager George Loudder recommended the 14-year period but he admitted that it could possibly cause problems with rates.

The newest member of the commission, Dr. J. Pat Stephens, said, "I think they're going to be fighting the legislature more than us."

Mayor J. Manly Bryan told the commission that the city still had the power to control rates, regardless of the length of the franchise term.

The franchise text will be read in full at three successive commission meetings before it will become official.

The agreement was finally reached after voters in the recent city election authorized rewording of the city charter.

The commission began action Monday night by swearing in Dr. Harrison and Dr. Stephens. Harrison was returned to the body unopposed and Stephens was successful in his first bid for public office.

The W.R. Crow Subdivision, recently annexed into the city, was zoned Single Family 2 by the commission following an all but void public hearing.

Only three persons attended the hearing, with just one speaking to the council. "I'm for it," said one man just before the official action was taken.

Bids for a back-hoe and tractor were opened but the bids were tabled pending discussion with the individual bidders. This was necessary, said Loudder, due to the nature of the equipment being sought. The bids allowed for several options and ranged from about $12,000 to just over $19,000.

Commissioners also approved annexation of a tract of land just south of highway 217 and adjacent to Pioneer Estates. The action was taken after a petition was received from landowners of property involved requesting the annexation.

According to Loudder, the property annexation could become final at the commission meeting to be held May 21.

Commissioners also discussed the possibility of allowing a $3,000 tax exemption for persons 65 years of age and older. Mayor Bryan said the city would lose an estimated $13,676.39, based on current tax rates and property.

It was said that because of the city tax and the school tax being inter-connected through use of the same office and tax officials, it might be advisable to act in conjunction with the school board regarding the exemption.

"We may need to meet with the school board in May," said the mayor of the possibility of taking joint action.

Following the regular open session, members of the commission adjourned into executive session to discuss possible acquisition of property.

At its last meeting, the Canyon School Board also delayed any official action pending joint discussions with the city commission.

Representation Fight Won On State Board

Two self-employed businessmen have been appointed to the state constitutional revision committee, appointed recently, and which will meet Wednesday in a public hearing in Amarillo.

Mrs. Mary Parker, president of the Canyon Political Action Group, who waged a campaign several weeks ago to have self-employed businessmen placed on the committee, said Tuesday she has received a letter from Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby which says a farmer and a food company owner have been named to fill positions on the committee.

"It only goes to point out that if people become involved they can have the type of government they want," she said.

Mrs. Parker, just after release of the names of the members of the 37-man committee which will study to revise the Texas constitution, protested through telegram and letter and by telephone that no independent businessman was named to the commission.

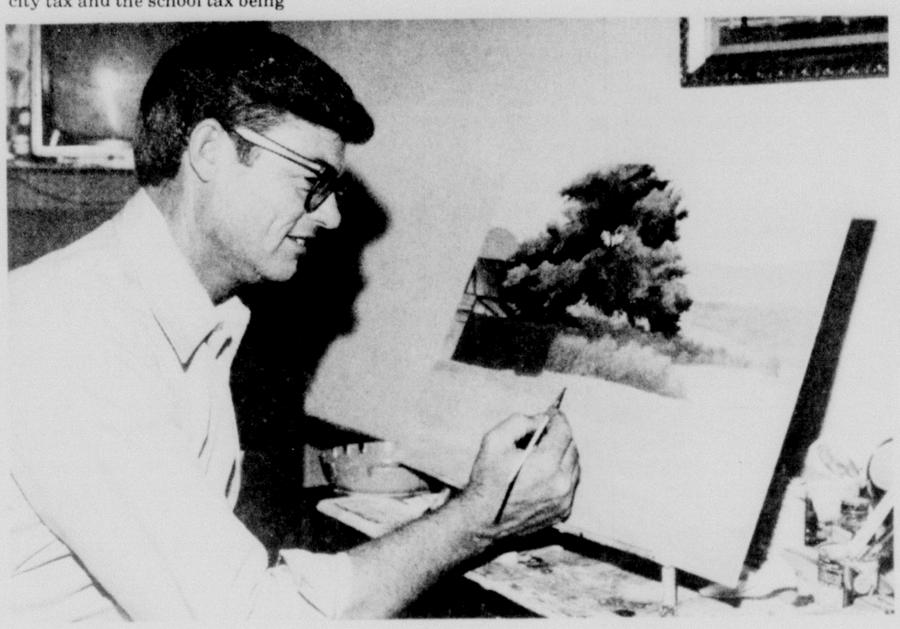
She noted at that time that the bulk of membership on the commission consisted of attorneys, bankers and other corporation executives.

Ired by the commission makeup, she wrote several letters and telegrams to Hobby and other state officials and also urged a state-wide letter-writing campaign.

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce, at her request, also joined the campaign.

Mrs. Parker said apparently two persons previously named to the commission have resigned and their replacements have been self-employed businessmen.

Hobby's letter states that Loys Barbour of Iowa Park, a farmer, and M. F. Frost of McAllen, owner of McAllen Food and Vegetable Co., have been named to the commission.



Artist Carl Hollabaugh adds detail to one of his "primitive" oils that are drawing attention currently from area art collectors. His painting "Prairie Sunset" received a blue-ribbon Citation Award in the Spring Citation Show now on view in Amarillo.

Woodwards Have New Baby Girl

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob L. Woodward, 2623 2nd Ave., greeted the arrival of a new baby girl, Karla Marie, born April 12, 1973, at Neblett Memorial Hospital. She weighed 5 lbs. 5 ozs. and measured 18½ inches at birth.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Thomas of Andrews, Texas, are the maternal grandparents.

The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Woodward of Summerfield, Texas.

Karla is the Woodward's first child. Her father is an agriculture-business major at West Texas State University.

Canyon Artists Win Recognition

Canyon artists, topped by Carl Hollabaugh who won a blue ribbon Citation Award, were among those who received recognition in the Spring Citation Show now on view in Western Plaza Mall under sponsorship of the Amarillo Fine Arts Association.

Brenda Brown, a student at West Texas State University, also won a blue ribbon Citation Award.

Honorable mentions went to Margaret Campbell, who entered an oil and acrylic and a watercolor; Jerry Warren, who entered two water colors; and Emily Upshaw of Claude, who entered an oil.

Other Canyon artists whose works were accepted for the Spring Citation Show are Iva McWilliams, showing an acrylic and an oil; LaNell Hagameier, with an acrylic and a watercolor; Anita Lowe, with an oil and a tempera; and Glenna Wilson, with a pen and ink and acrylic.

Judge for the show was Sherwood Suiter, chairman of the art department at McMurray College in Abilene.

Seven Citation Awards were given among the 105 works accepted for the exhibit. The award winners from Region 21 of the Texas Fine Arts Association will be sent on to Austin to be judged in a state show in August.

Artist Carl Hollabaugh, classified as a "primitive" painter, also won a Citation Award and honorable mention in last year's exhibit. His works have received considerable attention since he started painting only two years ago and has never had lessons. His prize-winning oil this year was called "Prairie Sunset."

The 35-year-old father of two is engaged in the cattle hauling business with his father. His painting is done early mornings, late evenings, and during slack times in his business. His "studio" is a corner of a bedroom in his home on the Palo Duro Highway.

Managing Money Is Club's Topic

Pleasantview Home Demonstration Club's program for their April 11th meeting was on "The Art of Managing Your Money," presented by Mrs. Becky Hall, Randall County Extension Agent.

The meeting took place in the home of Mrs. Joe Rice, president.

The group will again meet on April 25 with Mrs. D.C. Gamble. They will also participate with other clubs in a Tasting Tea planned for May 14 in the Canyon Community Center.

Attending were Mmes. Bill Head, Mead Humphries, Cristler Crain, John Robinson, Edgar Robinson, Joe Rice, Albert Myers, John Jennings, and Jim Irlbeck.

Police Seek Thief

Canyon police this week investigated the theft of $56 in cash reported by University Shamrock Service Station in the 100 block of 23rd Street.

Doug Warren, the attendant on duty, told officers that he missed the money at about 6:40 p.m. Sunday when he went to the cash register to make change.

According to Warren he did not see anyone take the money but he did give a description of two men he had waited on just minutes before discovering the loss.

The attendant said the two men drove in and asked that their tires and oil be checked, and while one talked to Warren, the other went inside the station.

Warren said he assumed the man had gone into the restroom.

As the two men drove away, another car pulled in and the loss was not discovered until Warren had finished waiting on it.

"Since no one saw the money taken, there is no way to tell if the two men took the money or not," said a police department spokesman.

Palisades Safe From River Bill

The thirty families who live in the Palisades, the creek-side community in north Randall County, can breathe a sigh of relief and put away their fears that a bill pending in the Texas legislature will make their creek a public recreation area.

State Sen. Max Sherman said Tuesday a committee he chairs in the Senate defeated the proposed Texas Public Rivers Act last week.

The act was introduced in the legislature earlier in the session and immediately Palisades residents protested.

Prior to learning of the committee action last week, Charles Hooker, president of the Palisades Club, said residents there very much opposed the bill.

The bill would have stated that all navigable inland waters should be open to public use and unrestricted.

For Palisadians, many of whom bought property in the canyon to achieve privacy, the bill was an obvious threat.

Before learning of the bill's demise, Hooker had said he and other Palisadians were preparing to seek an attorney's aid in protesting the legislation.

Decision Due Liquor Request

Randall County Judge Woody Pond was to make a decision Wednesday afternoon on the granting of a liquor license to a package store in Amarillo.

Granting of the license had been protested during two public hearings by residents of the area immediately surrounding the proposed liquor store location.

The residents presented a petition last week asking denial of the license request. The request for a license came from R.C. Hamblin who wants to open a Judge Roy Bean's Liquor Store at the intersection of 34th Street and Wimberly in Amarillo.

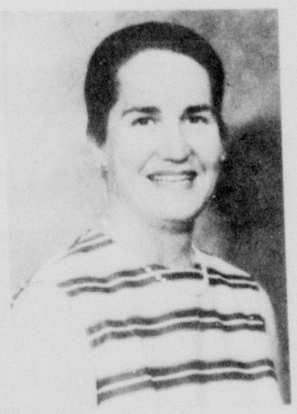
Three Women Win Top District Honors

The title of "Outstanding Clubwoman" was awarded to three women, all from Canyon, at the Top of Texas District Convention held last weekend in the WTSU Activities Center.

Selected for the distinction were Mrs. Truett Hull, Jr., of University Study Club, in the senior division for women with over 10 years of membership; Mrs. Wayne Wirt of University Study Club, in the senior division for women with membership under 10 years; and Mrs. Larry Brandon of Heritage Woman's Club, in the junior division.

Mrs. Hull was honored for outstanding service in civic, club and church activities. During the past year she chaired the Heart Fund Drive for Randall County, with the University Study Club as the overall sponsoring group. As a club, cultural, and civic leader, Mrs. Hull was also nominated by the Chamber of Commerce and University Study Club as Canyon's Citizen of the Year.

A large part of Mrs. Hull's energies in the last few years have been given to her position as president of the South Randall County Hospital District. She began working in 1970 to help Neblett Memorial Hospital retain accreditation and form plans for a new hospital, giving many hours to consultation and research.



Mrs. Truett Hull, Jr.

Mrs. Hull has been an ordained Elder in the First Presbyterian Church since 1971, and presently serves on the executive building committee and as recreational and fellowship chairman.

An interest in music has involved Mrs. Hull in membership in the Music Arts Association and Community Concert Series. She has sung for 18 years in her church choir and performed in a leading role in "TEXAS" two years ago.

The widow of former Randall County district attorney Truett Hull, she has been both mother and "father" to her four children since 1964. The family includes Andy, 22, Chris, 20, Susan, 17, and Jonathan, 14.

Mrs. Wayne Wirt was singled out for the "Outstanding Clubwoman" award in recognition of her work as president of University Study Club for 1972-73, organizer and first president of the Panhandle Plains Museum Auxiliary, chairman of the Top of Texas District Convention held April 6 and 7 in Canyon, and offices held on a district and state level in the TFWC organization.

The Canyon clubwoman also serves on the Board of Directors of the Canyon Federated Council, on the Board of Directors of the Canyon Division, Opportunity Plan, Inc., and as a member of the High Plains Baptist Hospital Auxiliary. In the First Baptist Church she is chairman of the Youth Committee and advisor on the Youth Council, and chairman of the Benevolence Committee.

Mrs. Wirt is wife of an electrical contractor in Canyon, the mother of two grown children, and grandmother of two.

Mrs. Larry Brandon, district choice for "Outstanding Junior Clubwoman," has been active in Heritage Woman's Club since it was organized in 1969. She has served as secretary, treasurer, chairman of its first Christmas Bazaar, and was publicity chairman for the 1972 "Carrousel of Stars" talent show. She will head the woman's club as president next year.

In addition, Mrs. Brandon is a member of the Board of Directors of the Canyon Division of the Opportunity Plan. She also serves as College Chapter Advisor and Board Chairman of Alpha Delta Pi social sorority. Most recently, Mrs. Brandon helped organize and now serves as president of Canyon's newest women's club, Canyon Junior Forum.

The active young club leader is the wife of Larry Brandon, a partner in the law firm, Perdue and Brandon in Amarillo, and they have one daughter, age 2.

Cathy Gurley and Jessie Booth, both employees of the City of Canyon, watched Monday as Mayor J. Manly Bryan signed a proclamation designating next week to be National Secretaries Week" in Canyon.

Mrs. McCasland Hosts HD Club

Mrs. Bob McCasland was hostess to Jowell Home Demonstration Club when it met on April 11 in her home. Mrs. Ervin Davis presided.

Dr. Knott Will Retire-- WTSU To Lose A Teacher, Gain A Legend

By JUNE DAYEN

Every university of stature has a handful of professors whose influence lingers on after they leave.

The students remember their quirks and yarns long after they have forgotten what the course was about.

Dr. Aubrey Kirkman Knott, known far and wide simply as "Knott," is one of these. His courses in Shakespeare and the English romantic poets acquired an aura of fame.

The campus scene will be somehow diminished when this expounder of the down-to-earth in human nature and the out-of-sight in English literature retires next July after 33 years at West Texas State University.

Coming in 1940 as an instructor and counsellor for failing freshmen, Dr. Knott stayed on to eventually serve as head of the department of humanities and head of the English department from 1955 to 1968. He reckons about 30,000 students have been enrolled in his classes.

Young and old will remember the tales from his early days of "how he whipped Ozetta," of the constant church feuds between the Campbellites and the Backsliders, of his first grade love affair with Della and, later on, with a thin, fragile and beautiful damsel stricken with tuberculosis.

Immortal will be the puns on his own name, slipped into lectures to lighten a tedious passage or tragic mood. "The prayers of the wicked availleth Knott," he would write on a blackboard before a quiz. Or he proposed to start a new college called "Knott Normal."

Some puckish spirit urged him from time to time to inject absurdity into the most serious discussions. Thus in the midst of a long, drowsy summer morning class he would call a halt, and all would stand and loosen their bones for a moment or two. "Don't preen, just fluff," he might say, eyeing a matronly figure.

His favorite prop was a kaleidescope, which might be any one of many in his collection donated by students and other friends. Handing it to someone, he would ask him to describe what he saw. No two ever saw the same. It was Knott's own illustration of the classic axiom, "Beauty is in the eye of the beholder."

Nevertheless, Knott prescribed strong doses of fundamentals beneath such sugar coating in his classes.

An instructor in modern grammar for 25 years and vocabulary for 15 years, he would select certain words from readings and polish them to high luster. "Mutability" was not only a prime idea from Shelley's "A Defense of Poetry," but also explained his own philosophic approach to life. "The ability to accept change is the great fact of life — it comes, it comes," he said.

Knott's teaching method was one of subtle triangulation between the subject, himself, and the student: The bell rings and in walks the instructor — a spare, greying man with strong even lines to his face. His blue eyes have a look both bookish and challenging. Roll is called, and he then picks up a weighty textbook, turning to a passage as if it had just come to mind. He reads in a kind of rolling, declamatory style, touched with a note of wonder. Soon a foot is propped on the rung of a chair, the book rests on the knee, and he looks up. "What do you think Byron — or Keats, or Wordsworth, or Shakespeare — was trying to say here?"

Whatever the student might say would be the right answer to such a question. From the most fumbling response, nine times out of ten Knott would pick up a phrase and make it seem inspired.

"Oh, say, Mr. Smith, you have reminded me of the time when I . . ." And Byron or whoever, Mr. Smith and Knott would find themselves bound in a web of common circumstance.

A student would soon discover that no matter what the text, he was reading about himself. The course became a kind of pilgrimage to self-understanding.

Dr. Knott often said, "I was a Texas accident," meaning he was the only one among the five boys and one girl in his family born in the hamlet of Blue Ridge near Dallas. The family returned to Tennessee, where he spent the years up to the age of 10, when his parents re-imigrated to Texas.

The retiring professor earned his BA and MA degrees from Baylor University, and his Ph.D. at the University of Oregon. The years in which he acquired an education were busy years, because he took a bride, continued teaching all the while, and brought up two children at the same time.

"Looking back, I didn't see how in the world I had done it," commented Dr. Knott. "I had a feeling of urgency about time." He said his son, now a doctor in Dallas, gave him credit for teaching him that life was important wherever he was and whatever he was doing. But his advice now to the world is, "Don't get involved in the distractions of making a living."

Some of Knott's best stories revoive around his first teaching experience in a one-room schoolhouse in Prairie Grove, Texas. The 30 pupils ranged in ages from six to 18. "We carried water up from the pump and the pigs would overturn the water pails," he said, giving an idea of the primitive conditions. "I had to go home with each student and spend the night once during the semester. I slept in the parlor with the player piano. On those nights, I had to be well prepared in math — not my strongest subject — because they would certainly ask me to work some problems."

The "whipping Ozetta" incident fits in here. Knott was 19 years old at the time, and had classroom charge of an insolent lass, Ozetta, age 17, mothered by an ignorant woman of violent reputation. "One day she said to me, 'Go to h - - -,' and there was nothing to do but to spank her. Everyone in town heard about it. One day soon afterwards I walked into the general store. People were gathered around the potbellied stove, and I could sense that Ozetta's mother was somehwere among them." When a threatening female figure started toward him, Knott bravely stood his ground, all the while suspecting she would gun him down. "But when she got close to me, she reached out and shook my hand. 'I hear you whipped her. I hope you beat the h - - - out of her,' she said to me," recalls Knott, still chuckling.

In the years between then and coming to WTSU Dr. Knott married the former Velma James. They spent 28 happy years in Canyon until her death in 1968. He has since remarried. Margaret, his present wife, is a retired teacher and was a friend of both him and his late first wife. They now make their home in Amarillo.

Using Amarillo as a home base, the Knotts have plans for travel abroad, perhaps to the Orient or the Scandinavian countries, after the close of summer school. Both have journeyed extensively abroad, and Dr. Knott is almost as familiar with the English settings of the works of literature he teaches as the Panhandle. In 1955 he spent a summer at the Shakespeare Institute at Stratford-on-Avon on a grant from Birmingham University.

As for parting words of wisdom on the subject of teaching, Dr. Knott stated, "I would almost say that the teacher is always the one who is doing the learning. The students teach the teacher. They have taught me more than I have ever learned from any other source in the world."

Easter Egg Hunt Set By V.F.W.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars will hold its annual Easter Egg Hunt Sunday in Conner Park. Starting time is 2 p.m.

According to sponsors three prizes will be awarded in each of three categories; infant to age 5, age 6 through age 11, and age 12 through 16.

A prize will also be awarded to the entrant finding the most eggs.

Interest Growing In Growing

(The following is the fourth in a series of articles on home gardening prepared from information provided by County Agent John Brazzil.)

Not since the World War II "Victory Garden" days, have people shown as much interest in home gardening as they're showing this spring.

"The reasons for this increasing desire to grow a garden are many and varied, but several can be identified," County Agent John Brazzil said. "Many homeowners believe the family food budget will be helped if fresh produce can be raised."

The quality of fruits and vegetables seems to be superior when picked from a plant at the peak of freshness and maturity, he said.

Another reason is that soil preparation, planting, weeding and watering are chores most people can do for healthful exercise in the outside environment and fresh air.

"Whole families can become involved," he said. "The very small children to the grandparents can have a part in creating an edible product where none grew before.

"The wonder of nature is nowhere expressed more than it is in closely observing germination, photosynthesis, growth, flowering and maturity of a plant. Plant culture involves chemistry, physics, biology, pathology, entomology and a wonderful process in which solar energy is captured in a plant leaf to produce protein, fats, carbohydrates and sugars.

"Many gardeners gather a deeper understanding of soil, water, wind, temperature, rain, hail, friendly insects, honest toil and sweat while encouraging a plant to grow."

Grace Baptists To Schedule Missions Series

A prayer by Mrs. George Dudley Moore opened the meeting. Mrs. Darold Baldwin gave the devotional, "Resurrection of our Lord and Savior Christ Jesus," based on John 20.

After a brief business meeting, refreshments were served to Mmes. George Dudley Moore, Ruth Allen, Earl J. Davis, Elmer Marshall, Ed Weeks, Hellen Reynold, H. M. Stokes, Laura Hartman, Miss Ona Mae McMurray, Mrs. Bill Foil, and Mrs. Darold Baldwin.

The last large unit of the WT Motel left Canyon Monday enroute to its new home in Sanford. The motel is being moved to make way for a new restaurant soon to be built on 23rd Street.

Top Netter Signs With WT Buffaloes

Steve Johnson, one of the nation's top high school tennis players, has signed a pre-enrollment application to attend West Texas State University.

The Reno, Nev., player is unbeaten through three years of high school competition and holds a victory over Whitney Reed, who was formerly the number one men's player in the United States.

Johnson, who hits both his forehand and backhand shots with two hands on the racket, has won the Governor's Cup in Nevada for four years. He has three times won the Nevada state junior title and has won the state high school championship for three straight years. He will defend his state high school championship in May.

Other key wins for Johnson are over Butch Walts, one of the standout juniors in the nation, and ranked players from California Mark Mitchell and Bill Maze.

"We feel that Steve is certainly among the top 10 high school players in the nation," said Buffalo coach David Kent. "On paper, he is the best player to ever sign at West Texas State."

Johnson, who plans to major in business at West Texas State, picked the Canyon school from over 25 scholarship offers. Among the schools offering him scholarships are Kentucky, Duke, Columbia, Oregon and UCLA.

Gene Howe News

Kids Take Playday, Scout Honors

By TROYCE MULHERIN

GREETINGS:

WOULD YOU NOT say that anyone willing to be fully dressed and ready to leave town at seven in the morning could be categorized as being "dedicated to the cause?"

If you are in accord with such theorizing, eight Gene Howe ladies could be described as being "dedicated" to the cause of PTA.

That's how many of us left Amarillo at such an unfriendly hour in order to get to Dalhart in time for the opening session of the 50th spring conference held by District 8 on April 12.

"PTA — WE HAVE a Commitment" served as conference theme, and the official conference program found state and district representatives interpreting policies, plans and procedures. Group discussions also provided for the exchanging of information and acquiring of inspiration for the coming year by the approximately 100 delegates in attendance.

GENE HOWE'S PTA president accepted certificates signifying completion of classwork in Parent and Family Life Education, recognizing our mod math class graduates. Such awards were presented by Raydell Palmer, who is PAFLE chairman for District 8. Troyce also proudly accepted a membership award from District 8, denoting Gene Howe's Third Place standing in increase in membership. For all of District 8!

MARGARET INGRAM, GWYN Sellers, Darlene Campbell, Glenna Schmidt, Jackie Mayfield and Ernestine Harp were other Gene Howe representatives to the conference, receiving lots of helpful information and suggestions to be put to good use in their local unit.

SPRING WEATHER SURFACED, Spring Colors decorated the refreshment table, and spring flowers enhanced the already lovely Susan Nash during the recent miscellaneous shower given in her honor. Susan is the bride-elect of Mike Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cook of Canyon. Mrs. Bruce Pfahl, Mrs. Keith Litton, Mrs. Richard Strong, Mrs. Carl Stewart, Mrs. Charles Crites, Mrs. B. J. Spradlin, Mrs. Earmon Carpenter, Mrs. Bob Davis, Mrs. P. D. Bowling and Mrs. Joe Christie served as hostesses for the Saturday afternoon "come and go" shower. Susan and Mike will be married in Amarillo on April 20. (And, two mommas will be at home all day on April 21st just resting, bet ya.)

YOUNGSTERS FROM OUR Gene Howe neighborhood won top honors at the area playday of games on horseback held last Sunday. Jay Morrison received a plaque for being High-Point Junior Boy of the all-day affair. Mike Mowry followed with a close second. Sherri McGregor, Lisa Basham and Shanna Baker each won a hand-full of ribbons (blue and otherwise) in several events. Riding clubs represented were from Hereford, Tulia, Umbarger, Kress, Amarillo and Canyon.

THE PALO DURO Rangers Riding Club sponsors these events, which are held at its arena located five miles south of Canyon and one-fourth mile east on Buffalo Lake Road. The public is invited to attend, and there is no admission charge. Sunday events are opened with a 10 a.m. church service by Rev. S. M. Hanson, retired preacher and chaplain of the Palo Duro Rangers. Games on horse back are held (weather permitting) on the first Sunday of each month, March through September.

THERE WILL BE a drawing for a color television set on June 1 with donations for the drawing being $1.00. Membership dues in Palo Duro Rangers Riding Club are $5.00 per month for the entire family, and activities include every age group from toddlers through senior citizens. Those interested in joining are invited to call Leon Ator, president, at 352-0949, Jimmy Morrison, vice-president, at 355-5430, or Richard Mowry, director of youth activities, at 352-3286.

VISITED WITH VONDEAN McGregor last Monday. Hubby Herb is home from the hospital and doing well. Herb came home last Friday and will be taking life easy for a while. Herb is one of those people who has to keep busy doing something, and Vondean is one of those kind of people who believes in keeping other people busy — so, she acquired a rug for Herb to hook. He started on his rug Saturday evening, and Vondean said he will probably be through with it about three days before this goes to print. He has really enjoyed this little bit of creativity, and has been very selfish with his rug hooking — not letting any of the other eager McGregors work on it. Sure glad you are feeling better, Herb. We in Gene Howe land are thinking of you.

PACK 130 WALKED off with banner honors in the recent Scout-O-Rama and parade. With a theme of "Cubs are Today's Knights" and costumed as the noble knight's mounts (replete with armor, etc.), these young men were awarded Second Place, "The President's Award" for over-all participation in the parade. All the boys in the pack and each and every den leader marched in the parade. You will recall that the parade day was one of our windier ones, and a few of the participants finished a little the worse for wear. The "horses" were about three feet long, made of cardboard; and, the wind played havoc with some of the lightweights. (One young man marched backwards for a while 'til a helping hand came along and helped him turn around).

THE BOOTH SET up for the Scout-O-Rama depicted a combination of feats of skill and games, winning a second place rating for the boys.

THIS SET UP also included an exhibit table on which was displayed the various crafts and articles made by the boys during the year. The boys really put the ol' imagination to work in displaying their skills, with such games as shield ring toss, spear the knight (a takeoff on pin the tail on the donkey. In this case, it was pin the tassle on the knight.) They also had a castle toss (otherwise known as a bean bag throw). The funnest of all was the jousting event. The boys used socks, stuffed with newspapers, in this jousting game. By the time the day was over, Bill Edwards was the proud owner of the longest pair of men's socks in town.

THIS PACK WILL also be participating in the Cub Country program this summer at Camp Don Herrington. Any second grader eight years old or older who is interested in becoming a Cub can contact any leader or Scout and get in on the summer fun. Bill Edwards, Jackie Mayfield, Katie Gensler or Bill Seth will be glad to visit with interested young men and their parents. The pack will go to Camp Don Herrington three Saturdays during the summer and will participate in archery, boating, riflery, basketweaving, swimming, nature study and gobs of other fun activities. Get your name in the pot now, young men, this is too much to miss.

TYRA SOLBRIG DECIDED to have herself a fun eleventh birthday and invited Jadine Burgtorf, Leann Dykes and Doreen Davee to a skating party — guaranteed fun for all. Sister Shari and brother Bart took a few turns around the old rink to welcome another year in Tyra's behalf. Tyra is the daughter of Pete and Ada. Ada is presently planning on spending her birthday on the 18th with her twin sister in Wildorado. Mrs. Sidney Sharp and Ada will not be sharing the date of their birth with us, but will play sharsies with the cake and birthday wishes. Don Bart, who has been working in Sunday Canyon (doing stonework, building roads, or something) took a day off to celebrate with his mom.

PHYLLIS AND JOHNNY Hicks and youngsters have finally gotten moved into their new home on Chapman Road.

Bob and June Podzemny bought themselves a ranch in Sudan, New Mexico, and sold their home here to the Hicks. Of course, all the family members are very excited about their new home, what with more room for everybody to enjoy. Such excitement generated enough energy to see the hedges trimmed and three feet of water (from the winter snow and rain) pumped from the swimming pool. All this activity coming about after getting the house in order! Am so green with envy will not even mention that Phyllis acquired honest-to-goodness, all-her-very-own workroom. She plans on getting everything in its place in this sacred room by the weekend, as she is very anxious to start working on "something," so she can leave it and accompanying supplies "out" and lying around! The last family member, Freckles (Karol's birthday horsie) will be moving to the new home this weekend, too. Then, everything and everybody will be in place at the new homestead — we send "Happy New Home" wishes to you all!

MIGHT WANT TO note the change of address in your school directory — now being Route 4, Box 388, Canyon; telephone number for the Hicks stays the same.

THOUGH SHE IS not exactly "up to par" Doris Bufkin is feeling better. Our thoughts and hearts are with you, Doris!

BE SURE AND get the youngsters back in school on Tuesday, the 24th. Yipee!

WE ARE IN the Lenten season, and our hearts are filled with the thoughts of the approaching Easter. This season will have deep meaning for each of us.

THANKS FOR THE use of the hall.

WT Tracksters To Host Meet On Saturday

West Texas State University's Buffaloes host Texas Tech and the University of Texas at Arlington in the WTSU Invitational track meet at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

The host Buffaloes and Texas Tech's Red Raiders are expected to be in a tight race for the team title.

Coach Bob Kitchens' Buffs defeated Tech earlier this year in the UT-Arlington Invitational, but an injury to hurdler-sprinter Carl Brown has hindered the host team for two weeks.

Brown, the Missouri Valley Conference record holder in the 120-yard high hurdles, pulled a muscle two weeks ago in a dual with Eastern New Mexico University. He was also a member of the Buffalo sprint relay team.

The Buffaloes are getting help this week for their sprint relay team from freshman footballer Aaron Gilbreath of Amarillo. Gilbreath is in spring training, but school is out for the Easter vacation this week and the 9.8 sprinter is working out with the track squad this week. He will lead off the Buffs' 440-yard relay team.

Other members of the West Texas State sprint relay will be Gary Goodin, Gary Keim and Tracy Dickson.

Dickson and Texas Tech's Ken Ford are the only two WTSU Invitational record holders returning this year. Dickson is the co-holder of the 100-yard dash record with former Buffalo Rocky Thompson at 9.2. Ford holds the long jump mark with 24-3.

Tech has strong entries in the 440-yard dash in Joe Aldridge and Tony Harris. Aldridge was timed last week for his leg in the mile relay at the Texas Relays in 46.2. Harris has run 48.0. Keim, the Buffaloes' entry, has a 49.4 time while Paul Acker of UT Arlington has a 49.1 best.

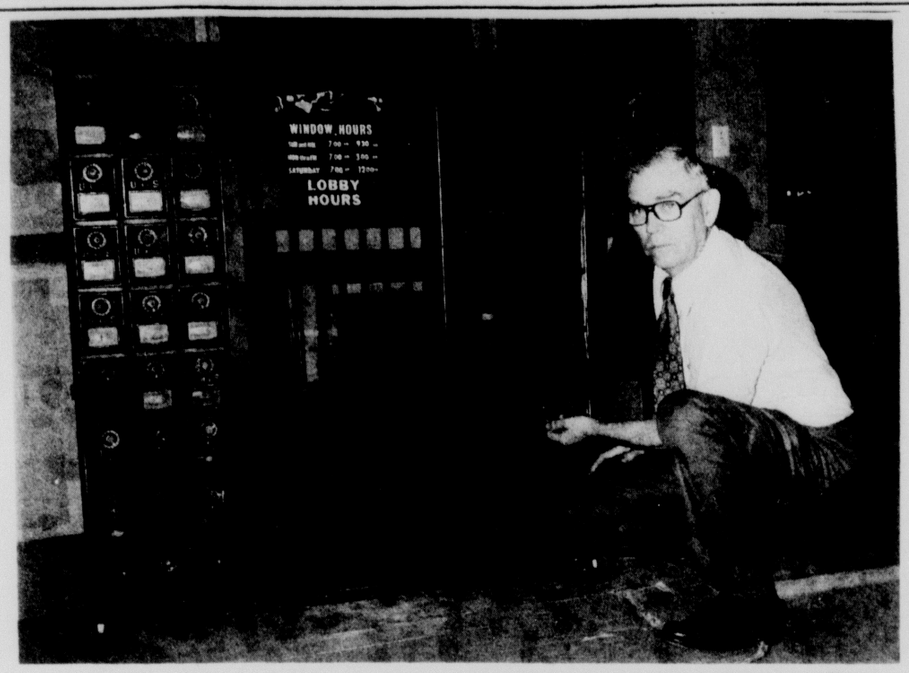
Arlington's top entries are intermediate hurdler Mike Cox, who has a 53.9 best, and discus thrower Brad Reid, who has a 166-0 toss.

The Buffaloes have strong discus entries in Dennis Briggs and Marvin Self. Briggs set a new school record earlier this year with a 183-10 effort. Self threw 181-7 in the same meet.

Hugh Jones of Texas Tech and WTSU's Jim Hogan are expected to have a tight dual for first in the mile run. Jones has run 4:11 and Hogan had a season best last week in the Texas Relays of 4:13.7. Both athletes are also entered in the 880. Jones ran 1:51.3 in a relay last week.

As Brown will miss Saturday's meet, the Buffaloes will count on freshmen Rich Beeman of Carlsbad, N.M., and Ray Felton of Amarillo for points. Beeman has a 14.8 clocking this spring.

Admission to the meet will be $1 for adults and students. West Texas State students will be admitted free with their identification cards.



Conway Kuykendall, local tax assessor-collector, is also a collector of memorabilia. With the purchase of the post office boxes and stamp counter above, he now calls himself the postmaster emeritus of Conway, Texas. Kuykendall purchased the post office equipment after the Conway post office closed in mid-March.

Canyon Man Claims Title Of "Postmaster Emeritus" Of Conway

Conway Kuykendall of Canyon jokingly calls himself the postmaster emeritus of Conway, Texas.

Kuykendall, school district tax assessor-collector, owns about all that remains of the Conway Post Office, which was closed by government order in mid-March.

An admitted collector of all kinds of memorabilia, Kuykendall has purchased the 48 post office boxes, stamp window and letter slots from the old Conway Post Office.

It was not his first, but it was his largest, purchase of post office boxes to date.

Three years ago, Kuykendall was visiting his son in Athens, Tex., and perused the wares at the giant flea market called First Monday at Canton in East Texas.

He left Canton that afternoon with several old post office box doors and an idea of how to make them turn a profit.

Returning to Canyon, Kuykendall polished up the old box doors and mounted them in small wooden boxes. His plan—to sell them as banks.

Someone else had the same idea and it was not long after Kuykendall finished his banks that he saw advertisements for them in various store brochures.

Then, not long ago, Kuykendall purchased 36 post office box doors from the old post office at Goodnight.

He plans to mount them in boxes, also, and sell them along with a history of Goodnight during flea markets.

One night in early March, Kuykendall learned of the closing of the Conway post office.

The next morning he was in Conway to try to buy as many of the box doors as he could. To his surprise, he was apparently alone in his ambition to own the box doors and after some dickering, he wound up with all the boxes and related equipment mounted in a metal frame.

With the purchase by Kuykendall, the old Conway post office, which had been located in a combination grocery store-gas station, closed down.

The Conway post office, according to Kuykendall, opened in 1897. The fixtures were destroyed by fire in 1914 and the boxes he now owns were installed at that time.

"I bought them because my mother's maiden name was Conway and for the history of them," Kuykendall said.

Rather than remove the doors for mounting in wooden boxes, Kuykendall plans to rejuvenate the postal boxes and window and mount the whole affair on rollers.

Then, with all that remains of the Conway Post Office behind him, he will sell his mounted doors at flea markets around the Panhandle.

WT Linksters In Abilene Friday, Sat.

West Texas State University's golf team, minus ace Jerry Boeka, will compete Friday and Saturday in the 18th Abilene Intercollegiate Invitational.

Boeka had his tonsils removed Tuesday and will be unable to play this week. The Amarillo junior has averaged 74.2 strokes per round this year.

Buffalo golf coach Vern Farquhar will take Dick Weston, Randall Burton, Eddie Kilmer, Junior Salinas and John Hood to the meet.

Weston, Plainview senior, has a 76.0 average per round and is second among the Buffaloes. He captured medalist honors earlier this year at the Eastern New Mexico Invitational.

The Buffs will fire 36 holes Friday and 18 Saturday at Abilene in the tournament, which is hosted this year by McMurry College.

WT Netters On Break

Coach David Kent's West Texas State tennis team is taking a week off during the school's Easter vacation, but will return to action next week in the Oral Roberts University tourney in Tulsa.

The Buffaloes captured third place last week in the Oklahoma City Invitational. They defeated defending Missouri Valley Conference champion North Texas State in the third place match, 6-3.

West Texas opened the Oklahoma City meet with a 9-0 victory over Big Eight Conference member Oklahoma State, but lost on the second round to defending Big Eight champion Oklahoma, 7-2.

Bill Marsh, the Buffaloes' number one man, has a 9-11 record in singles. Number two player Mike Bolton is 13-7 for the year. John Phillips, Snyder junior, is 11-9 playing in the third position.

The Buffaloes have been strong in their bottom three places. Number four man Dale Corbin is 15-5 in singles, number five man Joe Carrick is 16-3 and sixth man Scott Pool is 13-4. All of the Buffaloes' doubles teams have standout records. Bolton and Marsh are 16-3, Corbin and Pool are 16-3 and Carrick and Pool have a 15-1 standard.

Passing Improves In Scrimmage For Pass-Concious Buffaloes

West Texas State's football team put on a passing show for head coach Gene Mayfield before taking off this week for Easter vacation.

The Buffaloes completed 31 of 51 passes in Saturday's scrimmage and those throws were enough to impress the head coach, who has been working hard this spring to improve that phase of the team's offense.

Bob Sweat, the number one quarterback, completed 10 of 16 passes and had two touchdown throws. Mike Wartes had nine of 14 completions and threw the only interception of the day. Junior college transfer Don Nava had a 10 of 17 afternoon. Mike Adams, freshman from Big Spring, completed two of four passes.

Kenneth Sellers caught five passes, including a pair of touchdown tosses from Sweat.

Because of injuries to tailbacks Jimmy Lisle and Max Guydon, Cole Fraley and Rick Schleider ran at that position for both teams. Schleider had 121 yards for the winning Maroon team. The Maroons won the scoring battle, 36-18.

Fraley, who was named as the Missouri Valley Conference's first year player of the year last fall, scored on five yard runs for both the Maroon and White teams.

The Maroons were made up of the first unit and parts of the fourth. The Whites were composed of the second and third teams.

½ teaspoon dry mustard

Cut pocket in each chop, cutting from fat side almost to bone edge. Drain apricots, reserving ½ cup syrup. Put two apricot halves in pocket of each chop. Cut up remaining apricots. Grill chops over medium heat 35 minutes, turning once. Meanwhile, in saucepan, combine catsup, onion, oil, lemon juice, dry mustard, reserved apricot juice and cut-up apricots. Simmer 15 minutes. Cook chops 5 minutes more, brushing often with sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Hernandez's Son Born At Neblett

A new baby son, Michael Francisco, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hernandez, Lynette Apartments, on April 12, 1973, at Neblett Memorial Hospital. He weighed 6 lbs. 11 ozs. and measured 19½ inches at birth.

The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. (Dub) Thornton of Hartley, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Hernandez of Denver City, Texas, are the paternal grandparents.

The boy is the Hernandez' first child. The father is a sophomore accounting student at West Texas State University.

Fund Rules Outlined

County and city officials this week received a 12-page booklet outlining the rules and regulations with which they must comply in using federal revenue-sharing funds.

The basic rules for revenue-sharing fund use have not changed, according to County Judge Woody Pond, except the rules now say governmental units may not use their federal money to lower taxes.

The funds must be expended within 24 months after receipt and must be used on projects which are not already wholly or partially paid for by federal funds.

The real meat of the booklet for local agencies is the outline of reports which each governmental entity must file with the federal government.

Each governmental unit must file prior to receiving a revenue-sharing check for a specific period of time a report on the planned use of funds.

The report is to be filed on a form provided by the federal government's revenue sharing office.

In addition, each governmental unit must file a report on how the federal funds were actually used. The report is to be submitted annually on a form to be provided.

Certifications must also be filed which state the federal sharing money has not been used in violation of any of the tenets outlined in the brochure.

Each report filed must be published in a local newspaper and at the time of publication, the recipient governments must inform local news media that the reports have been filed.

In addition, the reports must be open for public inspection.

Pond said he has not yet received the forms required for the various reports.

Had a party? Or giving one? Tell The Canyon News about it. Telephone 655-7121, or stop by the News office on the south side of the square.

Mrs. Hall's Stitching Tips Help Seamstress

With the choice of so many easy-care fabrics on the bolt in fresh, interesting textures and colors, more women than ever will be stitching up their spring wardrobes this year.

Many of the home demonstration clubs have been scheduling programs on sewing tips with material supplied by Mrs. Becky Hall, county extension agent.

New synthetic materials, easy care finishes, and special threads on the market require know-how in sewing with success. Mrs. Hall has been supplying clubs with some of the pointers that follow.

Select a thread slightly darker than the fabric if an exact match is not possible. Mercerized cotton thread has the most available colors.

As far as strength of threads is concerned, generally thick threads are considered stronger than fine threads. Silk, nylon and polyester fiber threads are usually stronger than cotton threads, even when somewhat finer.

Threads with stretch characteristics might be used to stitch "stretchy" fabrics, especially synthetics. Nylon and silk threads have more elasticity than cotton threads.

Cotton covered polyester thread is ideal for use on fabrics that are a blend of traditional and synthetic fibers. Core spun combines the stretch and strength of an all-polyester thread with the sewability and heat resistance of its cotton wrapping.

Top stitching adds fashion detail to casual clothes, especially pant suits. There are several techniques for top stitching.

You may use regular thread with which you are sewing in two or more rows spaced right next to each other, with no space between. A large machine stitch emphasizes top stitching.

Use a buttonhole twist, silk twist, several strands of embroidery floss, or single strand embroidery cotton to make top stitching more prominent.

Accuracy in stitching and in spacing is important for a professional look. Experiment with threads, stitches, tensions and spacings on samples which have all the layers of fashion fabric and supporting fabrics that will finally be used.

Before blaming thread for frequent breakage, check the size of the sewing maching needle to make sure that it's consistent with thread size.

To prevent thread from breaking and tangling, always make sure thread is properly threaded and tension is correct. Thread should unwind freely from the spool with no drag.

When starting to stitch be sure that the take-up lever is at its highest point and hold the thread ends firmly to the back, under the presser foot. The needle should touch no metal as it goes through the needle plate. Check to make sure the needle is not bent or burred, and is set in the machine properly.

Maybe you have noticed that seams tend to pucker in easy-care or permanent press fabrics. There could be several reasons.

Thread tension may be too tight. Loosen top tension and bobbin tension as necessary.

Or there may be too much tension on the presser foot, the two layers of fabric travel unevenly. Lighten the presser foot.

The needle could be too heavy or blunt. Change needles — try a ball-point needle. Also the stitch could be too long or too short.

Little holes or pulled threads sometime develop along the stitch line in knit fabrics. This may be because the needle is blunt, burred or damaged. Ball point needles separate the threads of fabrics instead of penetrating them, so therefore are more successful in stitching knit fabrics.

Cow Belles Concerned About Rollback Of Beef Prices

By MARY NEAL HENRY

HAPPY COWBELLES HAD 35 attend the luncheon last week at Faye Parker's beautiful country home. They sent a message to the government discouraging the rollback on prices. This held the signatures of the entire membership, about 45 now. New members are joining at each meeting.

THE HAPPY COWBELLES have advertised in two newspapers, written letters and cards, made phone calls, and distributed posters advertising beef working for the beef industry.

These are simply a group of people trying to educate the public about beef.

HAPPY COWBELLES PLAN to participate in Meat Appreciation Day in Amarillo, on April 28.

SPECIAL GUEST OF the day was Mrs. Jewel Avent of Tulia. She is the Texas State 2nd Vice President. Mrs. J. C. Rhoderick of Plainview was also a special guest. Members present were Skip Simons, Leona McFarland, June Hancock, Ora Cox, Mattie Ruth Robinson, Myra Nell Culp, Mary Jane Miller, Eron Jennings, Pat Hargrave, Joyce Wheat, Bernice Hamblen, Willa Elliott, LaNelle Todd, Othella McGehee, Judy Thompson, Delores Wilhelm, Nora Taylor, Della Venhaus, Vera Eubanks, Willie Butler, Evelyn Dowd, Dorris Foster, Lenna Parker, Jo Hand, Barbara Danner and Karen, Joan Odom, Doll Edmonds, Vivian Woods, Ruby Vise, and Mary Neal Henry.

I CAME HOME from CowBelles on Wednesday afternoon and called the capitol, Area Code 202-224-3121. I asked for Senators Tower's or Benson's office. The operator connected me with Senator Tower's secretary. Then I talked with his legislative assistant, Larry Combest. Larry is a graduate of West Texas and a relative of the McManigals. Larry assured me that Senator Tower was against the rollback in prices.

DOLL EDMONDS CALLED the capitol building and could not talk with anyone at the time. She called back to talk to Ann Armstrong, one of President Nixon's staff. And she, too, was unavailable. Doll left her number. Davis Wheat, Ann's assistant, returned Doll's call. They had quite a conversation and I'd say Doll had all the right answers for him. Davis assured Doll that the government would do nothing to ruin the economy of agriculture.

SOMEHOW, I STILL don't feel so assured.

UNCLE J. D. PAIR sent a clipping out of a Los Angeles newspaper that mentioned prime rib dinners tabbed at only $2.95 and top sirloin steak dinners at $3.25 at the Dixie Belle in Downey, Calif. a suburb of Los Angeles. This doesn't make beef sound too high. This is a restaurant that provides nightly entertainment and live music, and is considered one of the town's most beautiful dining spots — so the article says.

CONSUMERS COOPERATIVE OF Happy served barbeque to a capacity crowd in the Happy school's cafeteria. John Butler welcomed the group and conducted the business meeting. Tom Cox gave the annual report and introduced Dale Glasen, of Farmland Industries. Mr. Glasen complimented Happy's good report and assured us that we'd have plenty of fuel for farming purposes. Don Magness, Carol Sims, and Albert Null are the new directors elected at that meeting.

FORREST AND RICHARD Bowe were visiting with Tom Cox when I walked into Consumers back door to get soda pop last Friday afternoon. Richard had driven up from Houston to help his Mom, Lola Bowe, a day or two. Forrest and Florence flew to Plainview to visit Florence' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brock. Richard had driven to Plainview and picked up Forrest. Forrest was only in Happy a few hours. Richard and Forrest both looked great!

SHERI, ANGELIQUE AND I traveled to Spearman on Friday night to the Tri-State High School Rodeo. We visited my sister and her husband, Frances and Red Matthews, in Panhandle on the way over there. We spent Friday night in Gruver with Phil and Mel Bradley and returned on Saturday afternoon.

CHRIS BRADLEY WAS home for spring break (from Clarendon Jr. College). There was lots of college talk. Chris plans to attend W.T. when he finishes at Clarendon.

ANNIE LEMMONS CAME over and visited with us Saturday afternoon. She always loves to remind Phil and I of things we'd rather forget.

Mrs. Shelly Brightens Home For Easter

Bright spring flowers, baskets of colored eggs, pretty new clothes, bunnies and baby chicks, and yummy things to eat—these are simple childhood pleasures that reflect the deeper joys of Easter.

In the home of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Shelly, 1201 7th Ave., the season of renewal is celebrated in just such small ways with their three children, Peter, 10, Timothy, 8, and Melissa, 3.

The Shelly's have lived in Canyon since 1963, spending one year of that time at Texas Tech where Walt was doing doctoral work. He is now assistant professor of political sciences at West Texas State University. When the two met at a summer session at the University of Colorado, it was a meeting of minds as well as hearts. Linda, too, has an interest in the social studies and has taught sociology for three years at WTSU.

The young Canyon couple are involved in several organizations, but allow themselves enough free time to enjoy family fun and personal interests. Their latest project is building a cabin near Eagle's Nest, N.M., where they already have lots. Walt hopes to utilize scrap lumber donated by acquaintances.

The Shellys are active in the First Presbyterian Church, with Dr. Shelly serving as an elder and Mrs. Shelly working on the Christian Education Committee and teaching kindergarten. She is also on the board of United Campus Ministry.

For relaxation, Linda enjoys activities of University Wives, Etc., and will serve as second vice-president of the large group next year. This year she has been a member of the "gourmet interest group," in which each take turns at preparing and serving a somewhat exotic meal for both husbands and wives.

Grandmother—Linda Shelly's mother in Omaha—has played an important role in setting the Easter scene for the Shelly children this season. She helped sew Melissa's new frock, a frilly mint green dress with organza pinafore, after Linda selected the pattern, cut out the pieces and mailed them to her.

Grandmother also thoughtfully sent along gaily painted egg and bunny figurines for a table centerpiece.

Mrs. Shelly has planned the following menu for Easter dinner:

Baked ham
New potatoes
Broccoli souffle
Orange jello, pineapple, carrot salad
Dilly bread
Cherry cheese tarts

Here are her recipes for most of these dishes:

Mrs. Walter Shelly credits a thoughtful grandmother for making these Easter figurines to delight her three youngsters, Peter, 10, Timothy, 8, and Melissa, 3. She uses them as a table centerpiece.

Baked Ham with Apple-Cinnamon Sauce

1 Shank portion, fully cooked smoked ham
6 Tbsp. cinnamon — apple jelly
1 Tbsp. cornstarch
¼ C. orange juice
2 Tbsp. lemon juice
⅛ tsp. salt
2 Tbsp. chopped raisins

Insert meat thermometer with bulb in thickest part of meat; be sure it does not touch bone. Bake, uncovered, to an internal temp. of 140° in a 325° oven (allow about 26 to 28 min. per lb.). About ½ hr. before ham is done, remove from oven; drain off drippings and cut away rind. Score top of ham and baste with cider cinnamon sauce made by melting the jelly over low heat. Mix cornstarch with orange and lemon juice and stir into the jelly. Add salt and raisins. Cook over low heat for about 2 or 3 min. or until thickened. This recipe may be doubled for a whole ham or if extra sauce is desired. Allow ½ lb. of bone-in ham per serving.

Broccoli Souffle

1 - 10 oz. pkg. frozen chopped broccoli
1 Tbsp. butter
1 C. mayonnaise
3 Eggs
1 C. milk
½ tsp. salt

Add butter to frozen broccoli and place in top of double boiler to defrost. Drain off liquid. Add mayonnaise. Beat eggs and add. Stir in milk and salt. Pour into a buttered 1 to 1½ qt. casserole. Sprinkle lightly with flour. Set in a pan of water and bake, uncovered, in 350° oven for about 55 min. or until set. This does not shrink. Serves 6.

Orange Jello-Pineapple Carrot Salad

1 Large pkg. of orange jello
1 Can crushed pineapple (use liquid to make jello)
Grated carrots

As jello thickens, add pineapple and carrots. Put in 9 x 13 inch pan and set.

Dilly Casserole Bread

Soften 1 pkg. dry yeast in ¼ C. warm water.

Combine:
1 C. creamed cottage cheese (heated until lukewarm)
2 Tbsp. sugar
1 Tbsp. instant onion flakes
1 Tbsp. butter
2 tsp. dill seed
1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. soda
1 egg unbeaten
softened yeast

Add:
2 to 2½ C. sifted flour, beating well after each addition. Cover and let rise in warm place until doubled in bulk, about 1 hr. Stir down and turn into well-greased round casserole. Let rise until light (about 30-40 min.). Bake 40-50 min. (until golden brown) at 350°. Brush with butter sprinkled with salt.

Cherry-Cheese Tarts

3 sticks pastry mix - or 1 recipe pastry calling for 3 C. flour
2 C. milk
1 2¾ oz. pkg. custard-flavor dessert mix
1 8 oz. pkg. cream cheese, cubed
½ tsp. vanilla
1 No. 2 can cherry-pie filling

Roll pastry mix to ⅛-inch. Cut 12 5-inch circles; fit over inverted muffins; pinch corners together, prick. Bake at 450° for 10 to 12 min. Cool.

Gradually add milk to dessert mix. Cook and stir over medium heat; add cream cheese and vanilla; beat smooth with rotary beater. Cool 10 min., stirring occasionally. Spoon into tart shells. Carefully spoon chilled cherry-pie filling atop. Chill firm.

Popcorn Easter Bunny

If you want a clever centerpiece for your table, Linda Shelly suggests you try these directions for a popcorn Easter bunny.

4 Qts. popped corn
¼ C. butter
½ lb. marshmallows
½ tsp. vanilla
2 raisins
1 slice maraschino cherry (dry)

Melt butter in saucepan and add the marshmallows and vanilla. Stir over low heat until marshmallows are dissolved. Pour over warmed popped corn and mold the bunny, shaping body of bunny from about 2/3 of total mixture. Shape small-sized balls for the forequarters and head. The ears are formed separately and fastened with toothpicks. Use raisins for eyes and cherry slice for mouth.

Parish Council Discusses Plans

St. Ann's Parish Council members met last week and discussed the probable need of a spring or summer fund-raising project. A special committee of parishioners outside of the Council was appointed to follow up on the project.

The Council also discussed the Diocesan Pastoral Council to be held at the Christian Renewal Center in Lubbock on April 28 and 29, and delegates were appointed to attend.

Matters to be brought up at the Diocesan meeting were considered. The importance of getting other people involved in the stewardship office was also pointed out. Times for Holy Week services were set, except for the Wednesday Passover Meal.

Canyon Student To Colombia As Missionary

A Canyon student, Karen Gilliland, has been approved by the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board for training as a missionary journeyman.

Miss Gilliland will be a secretary for a field representative in Cali, Colombia following a seven-week training course this summer in North Carolina. She will serve for two years on the missionary staff in Cali.

She is one of 48 single women selected for the journeyman program.

Now a senior at West Texas State University, Miss Gilliland is due to graduate this spring with a bachelor's degree. She is a graduate of Frank Phillips College in Borger in 1971. She is a member of Calvary Baptist Church here.

Highland Club Takes Tour

Those attending were Mmes. Oglesby, Bernard Grabber, C.R. Howard, Clarence Howard, Ervin Podzemny, Melvin McClure, Siegfried Bolte, and Boyd Elliott.

Presbyterians To Let Bids For Building

Members of the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church voted Sunday morning to let bids for construction of a new church building upon final confirmation of a local loan.

The congregation also voted to allow members of the Session contract for the construction if bids are acceptable.

The Rev. Baldwin Stribling, pastor of the church, said it may be two or three weeks before a contract is signed and construction can begin on the new church, which is to be on a city block between 9th and 10th Avenues and 18th and 19th Streets.

Sunday's vote culminated 18 months of study for the church which plans to construct a new sanctuary, and Christian education building at a cost of $270,000.

The Rev. Mr. Stribling said construction is expected to consume about nine months.

Site of the current Presbyterian church has been placed for sale, he said, pending approval of the congregation.

No New Leads In Plane Crash

No new leads had developed at mid-week concerning the mysterious turquoise jewelry found in the crashed plane of a New Mexico television dealer.

Sheriff Cliff Longest said he had received no word from New Mexico officials about who the jewelry belongs to. It is still in the safe at the Randall County sheriff's office.

The jewelry, more than $15,000 worth, was found in the wreckage of a small plane which crashed in north Randall County last week. The crash ended in death for the pilot, Roland Scheid, 38, of Albuquerque.

has averaged about 400 persons during recent weekdays. Most report that fishing has held up, with several anglers going away with the large planted catfish weighing up to 16 pounds.

Officials said that about 20 of the larger fish had been caught, which would indicate that from 40 to 45 lunkers remain in the water. After the lake refilled following draining, it was stocked with more than 100,000 catfish, 64 of those being the larger brood stock.

Officials at both the lake and the park said all facilities would be open and available to the public. The only open gate into Buffalo Lake is the one leading from Umbarger.

In the attic area, firemen have installed a sprinkler system, again to ensure the roof is not burned during drills.

The house contains no plumbing or electricity.

Rice said firemen will use the house to learn to fight various kinds of home-related fires.

The fires will be started by placing gasoline or fuel soaked grasses in a specific location. Then, firemen will be tasked with entering the house, finding the source of the fire and putting it out.

The house will also be used to teach firemen the use of their oxygen equipment.

Rice said the Canyon fire drill house is one of only two in the Panhandle area, the other being in Lubbock, and is one of the few in the state.

The special Sunrise Service in Palo Duro State Park will begin at 6:15 a.m. The preacher will be Rev. James Bethell, campus chaplain of the United Campus Ministry at West Texas State University.

No admission to the park will be charged those who attend the special service.

The Sunrise Service, which has attracted large crowds over the years, has been cancelled only once, five years ago by snow.

The residents of Palisades Park will hold a Sunrise Easter Service in their park at 6:30 a.m. on Easter Sunday. The Rev. Doug Hooker will conduct the service. Coffee and donuts will be served in the fellowship hour following the service.

and articulate.

His wife, a tall, thin woman, speaks earnestly of her abilities to foretell the future, heal the sick.

During the Monday discussion of their religion, the Frosts outlined their beliefs.

Basic to their religion is a belief in a God or god-head, who or which resides in what the Frosts term "side," the equivalent to Christianity's heaven.

Every living thing on earth contains a part of the god or god-head.

Basic also to their religion is a belief in reincarnation. Existence begins with a small spirit in heaven, which soon crosses the invisible barrier between heaven and earth and becomes the smallest earth inhabitant.

Each living thing's primary mission on earth is to gain knowledge. Once a spirit gains all possible knowledge at one level on the earth heirarchial scale, he crosses again into heaven where it receives further instruction before crossing back to earth to take on the "earth shell" of a higher animal in the heirarchial structure.

This back-and-forth process is repeated and after centuries, the spirit will achieve the earth-shell of man. The spirit may be reincarnated many times as man before learning all there is to learn of the earth.

Once all on earth is learned, the spirit returns to heaven to become a guide for others still on earth. The final rung in the reincarnation ladder is when the spirit joins with the god-head.

The Frosts say they believe man's purpose on earth is to gain knowledge and to do good for others. They believe in only one sin — the sin of omission, but believe that nothing should be done which harms one's self or others.

Tied up in their religious beliefs, too, is strong belief in the power of meditation to communicate with the spiritual world and in the power of ESP, faith healing and other extra-sensory devices. They believe they can tell the future and alter it to bring about good.

Although the Frosts say they've learned a great deal since the times of their predecessors in early England or Europe, they admit they have not given up the more pagan aspects of witchcraft.

Their religious ceremonies involve chants, nudity and have sexual overtones. But, these are things, they say which they can't change due to the nature of the spirit world.

Mrs. Morris Talks On Needlepoint

"Traditional and Contemporary Needlepoint" was the center of interest at a meeting of the Canyon Garden Club held Thursday evening, April 12, in the home of Mrs. Ed Weeks.

Mrs. Mike Morris presented the program on needlepoint, showing rugs, pictures, and pillows. She also gave instructions on colors and different kinds of stitches.

Mrs. Weeks presided in the absence of president Mrs. K.E. Hines. Refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Frank, Mr. and Mrs. E.T. Cummings, Mrs. Gladys Haines, Mrs. Ray Wells, Mrs. Mike Morris, and Mrs. Gladdis Samples.

The garden club will next meet in the home of Mrs. Rae Walters with Mrs. Samples as co-hostess.

Hospital Board Elects Officers

Hospital administrator Ray Grimes reiterated Monday night he anticipates final plans for a new Canyon hospital will be ready for South Randall County Hospital District board approval by early May.

Grimes said hopefully bids can be let soon after the plans are reviewed by board members.

Board members during their regular meeting eyed the latest set of plans from architect Bill O'Connell.

They also reviewed their financial status and learned that Randall County's tax office has collected 93.2 per cent of the taxes to be collected for the district this year.

In other business, Mrs. Lois Hull was re-elected president, Vernon Harman was re-elected vice president and Mrs. Nolon Henson was re-elected secretary for the board.

be ill-timed due to the demise of and controversy surrounding an Amarillo Air Force Base Credit Union. Phillips stressed the federal credit union provides government-backed insurance on accounts up to $20,000.

Commissioners deferred action on the proposal.

Commissioners approved the advertising for bids for a 6,000-gallon tank to hold road-paving emulsion, which Road Supervisor West said will cost about 14 cents per gallon if purchased in quantity compared to a 30-cent price per gallon.

The emulsion will be mixed with water and spread on paved roads in the county before next winter in an effort to prevent heavy damage from ice and snow storms.

PIONEER SEEDS
We're proud our seeds have earned the trust of farmers like these...
Lloyd Coffey got a yield of 8400 pounds with Pioneer brand 828. A high yielding yellow endosperm variety, Pioneer 828 meant profit for Lloyd Coffey, Star Rt., Wildorado, Texas.
Charles Acker recorded an outstanding yield of 221 bu. per acre with Pioneer brand 3369A. A top yielder, 3369A was a moneymaker for Charles Acker, 1106 Hillcrest, Canyon, Texas.
Because we were the first company to commercially produce hybrid corn and with 17 years of work on sorghum, we know a lot more about hybrids and how to make crosses that really yield. We've had longer to test and re-test our varieties. We've stuck with some of our early crosses, and we keep developing new ones to fit every growing condition imaginable.
For the North Plains we recommend these sorghum, corn and forage varieties...
Pioneer brand 8417—new yellow endosperm sorghum—champion yielder in medium maturity class—large open heads—does well on all types of land.
Pioneer brand 820—good yielder under stress—outstanding with plenty of water and fertility—MDM resistant—full season.
Pioneer brand 846—excellent drouth resistance—MDM resistant—medium maturity—our most popular sorghum variety.
Pioneer brand 3369A—champion-class corn favorite—tolerant to northern and southern blight—good ear retention—heavy grain yielder.
Pioneer brand 3306—most popular corn hybrid on the High Plains—tall with outstanding stalks and ear retention—good yielder on dry or wet land.
Pioneer brand 988—sorghum sudangrass hybrid for pasture, greenchop, hay or haylage—ready to cut or graze in a little more than a month—regrows again and again all summer with adequate moisture and fertilizer.
When you choose a hybrid for your land, choose one from the company that started it all...

THERE IS A new addition to the Cordell Huddleston family. His name is Jason Bryan, born March 30. Cordell and Linda also have another son, Kason, who is now three years old. Congratulations!

OUR FAMILY WENT to see "Time to Run" last Thursday night and came away with a special feeling. The age-old story of a father-son conflict is told in a moving and religious way. I found myself reaching for a kleenix several times. Ed Nelson and Randall Carver gave sensitive meaning to their characterizations.

Speaking of Randy—I was rather tickled to hear on Amarillo television the other night about Randall Carver, a former student at Tascosa High School. Here in Canyon his press releases call him a graduate of West Texas State University. The Dalhart newspaper speaks of him as Earl Wilbur's (a local banker) nephew, who visited Dalhart many times in his youth. In Hereford he is the "hometown boy made good." We all anxiously lay claim to his heritage. Randy was considerate in living in several Panhandle towns before his rise to fame, so we can all claim him legitimately. Randy is proud to be from this area. Of course you all know that he was a VERY CLOSE friend of Steve's and mine. In fact the more celebrated he becomes the closer I remember the old college friendship.

Seriously, I think I could speak for all of us in saying how proud we are of Randy, especially because of his involvement in this beautiful, Christian movie.

DR. AND MRS. Dudley Moore are happy to have two of their children home for the Easter Holidays. Bea and Wink Clark and Joe Moore are here. Bea and Wink are both working in Dallas. Joe is coaching in Waxahachie, Texas.

DR. RONALD McKOWN has taken several students on a research trip during spring break. They are doing most of their study on the Yucatan Penisula. Linda Conway told me her husband, Kenny, a biology graduate student, was among the group.

THE EASTER SUNRISE Service in Palo Duro Canyon should not be missed if possible. I could think of no more beautiful place to worship than the Canyon at sunrise. The services begin at 6:15 a.m. and there will be no admission charge to the park for those attending the Service.

THE BETA SIGMA Phi City Council have elected their officers for the coming year and they are: Lucille Robinson, Xi Kappa Zeta chapter, president; Virginia Grimes, Alpha Theta Delta chapter, vice-president; and Nell Sims, Chi Upsilon chapter, secretary-treasurer.

THAT IS ALL for this week. There is not much happening here in town. Most people are just enjoying their families. I will have some travel stories next week on the people who are out-of-town. Happy Easter!
